WEATHER PROBABILITIES .- War Depart ment. Office of the Chief Signal Officer, Wash barometer.

COLORED CONSERVATIVES .- The executive last night at 202 Queen street, Magnus L. Robinson presiding. There were present bu merous members of the club.

The chairman stated that the object of the meeting was to hear the report of the work of the club, and that while the secretary was preparing his report, the committee would be pleased to hear from the President of the club, R. B. Hopkins.

The President was then introduced, and congratulated the committee on the signal success they have met with so far in the campaign by and character, and that he was proud to say that he had the assurances of numerous colored men of good standing that they would vote the conservative ticket on next Tuesday. He said I predict an overwhelming majority on next will roll up a good majority; it was electrified last week by the thrilling speeches of our candidates at Convalescent Camp, when George A. Mushbach, esq., stated that he was the candidate of the conservative party, whose bancer was thrown to the breeze, inscribed with the words "universal suffrage and equality before the law," and by his masterly argument com pletely annihilated the verdant young gentleman who came there as the accredited agent of the workingmen's party. He concluded by urging all to work carnestly and zealously on next Tuesday.

The chairman then called for the report, which having been made, he said he was highly gratified at the result of the labors of the club, by the aid of which he felt confident the able champions of conservatism will bear off the henors of next Tuesday by a rousing majority, and that the interests of this city and county will be zealously guarded by Messrs, Mushbach and Hunter.

A committee of twelve canvassers was then appointed and the committee adjourned until next Monday.

SURPRISE PARTY .- One of the most enjoyable surprise parties of the season took place at Mt. Hybla, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Jno. W. Simpson, on Monday evening, the 29th inst., to e lebrate the anniversary of their twen ty seventh wedding day. The night was propitious for such an occasion, the air soft and balmy as a May right, and here and there it. All things (save one to mar the pleasure of the evening) passed off as "merry as a marriage

Slaughterers for foreign markets all who had the pleasure of sarrounding it and partaking of the luxuries. After the supper there was some very sweet music on the piano, and a few impromptu specches were made. As the watches showed that the hour of ten had arrived, the guests bade adieu to the inmates out so cheap. To day we notice a new line of of the little house upon the hill, and wended their way homeward, with Mr. Wm. Hunter and lady for leaders, followed by Mr. D. P. Smith and lady, the Messra, Snowden and ladies, and many others of the neighborhood. Taken all together it was an evening long to be pleasantly remembered by all the participants.

> SHOOTING CASE. - The case of the alleged shooting at Mr. Robert Collinsworth by Mr. Richard Slaughter was taken up at the Mayor's office yesterday evening by the Mayor, assisted by Justices Whittles y and Slaymaker. The evidence adduced the same facts substantially as were given in yesterday's Gazette, except that Collinsworth was not knocked down, but only staggered, by Slaughter's blow, and that the shooting was done while Collinsworth was running away from his assailant. Lieutenant Smith, of the police force, testified to Mr. Slaughter having come to the police station and given himself up; also to his statement then, that the first shot was accidental and the second fired over Mr. Collinsworth's head to keep him running. The Justices, after hearing the evidence, determined to send the case on to the grand jury at the January term of the Corporation Court. Mr. Slaughter was admitted to bail in the sum of $500, his brother, Mercer Slaughter, esq , becoming his security.

> ALL HALLOW'S E'EN .- To-day being the last of October will be celebrated according to time honored custom as Hallow E'en. According to old Scottish tradition, Hallow E'en is supposed to be the night when ghosts, gobline and fairies hold high revel. Among the Scotch in the Highlands many strange customs obtain at this season. By a mystic spell of enchantment the maiden tries her absent lover to see if he still remains true. The oracle is, as a general thing, a mirror, which the girl holds in one hand, and going down the cellar stairs backward looks into it. If he is true she sees her lover; if he is false she sees his satanic ma jesty. In this country the urchins play mis chievous pranks and tricks without respect to persons, and spells are performed by young people to discover their future partners in Police Items.—There have been very few cases at police headquarters since yesterday. James Grimes and Henry Boswell, on the charge of stealing rope from Mr. Deavers, were committed for further examination. Several small boys for stealing cabbage from the garden of Mrs. B. H. Lambert, with which to celebrate Hallow E'en, were turned over to their parents for correction. Matilda Johnson, colored, who was sent to ail yesterday by Justice Padgett, for disorderly conduct, was granted a rehearing to day and released. The costs were assessed against Sandy Jones, also colored, who was the complainant.

PLEASANT OCCASION .- A number of the friends of Capt. James M. Steuart had an oyster supper at the "Germany," on Fairfax street, last night, in honor of his re-election as Postmaster of the House of Representatives. The affair, although a very quiet one, was very recherche, and was gotten up in that inimitable style for which Ruben is so famous. All pres ent enjoyed themselves highly, and many toasts Arrived-Beats F C Doyle, to J P Agnew & were drunk and good wishes expressed over the

In the Catholic Church it will be a holiday of obligation, on which all of the faithful are required to hear possible. Services will be held in St. Mary's OFFICE OF THE CITY GAS WORKS, Church at 6 and 10 s. m.

THE NEW TELEPHONE.

The telephone was arranged last evening for communication between the capital and the government printing office. The capital end is at the Senate postoffice, and it is now constantly in use for business purposes in relation to the government printing. As the telephone is as yet novel to Alexandria I will describe its practical working. Above the desk of one of the clerks in the Senate postoffice there is fastened to the wall a walnut bex, not unlike in appearance the car fare boxes formerly in use in the as does a cleek or fire alarm box, below is a handle which shifts and unshifts the machinery. While I stood there this morning the call bell rang the signal that some one at the Government Office wished to communicate. public buildings and dwellings, a specialty.
